

Contents

Acknowledgements	4
Introduction	6
1
Supplemental
Homage to Brancusi	14
Wearable sculptures: jewelry and the problem of autonomy	21
Reframing the pattern and decoration movement	28
Props: Gijs Bakker and Gord Peteran	32
2
Material
Ceramic Presence: Peter Voulkos	43
Natural limitations: Stephen De Staebler and Ken Price	49
Crawling through mud: Yagu Kazuo	54
The materialization of the art object, 1966–72	58
Breath: Dale Chihuly and Emma Woffenden	65
3
Skilled
Circular thinking: David Pye and Michael Baxandall	70
Learning by doing	78
Thinking in situations: from the Bauhaus to Black Mountain	81
Charles Jencks and Kenneth Frampton: The ad hoc and the tectonic	87
Conclusion: skill and the human condition	100
4
Pastoral
Regions apart	106
Two versions of pastoral: Phil Leider and Art Espenet Carpenter	121
North, south, east, west: Carl Andre and Robert Smithson	127
Landscapes: Gord Peteran and Richard Slee	134
5
Amateur
“The world’s most fascinating hobby”: Robert Arneson	143
Feminism and the politics of amateurism	149
Abject craft: Mike Kelley and Tracy Emin	158
Conclusion	165
Notes	171
Index	203

Contents

Acknowledgements	4
Introduction	6
Supplemental
1
Homage to Brancusi	14
Wearable sculptures: jewelry and the problem of autonomy	21
Reframing the pattern and decoration movement	28
Props: Gijs Bakker and Gord Peteran	32
Material
2
Ceramic Presence: Peter Voulkos	43
Natural limitations: Stephen De Staebler and Ken Price	49
Crawling through mud: Yagu Kazuo	54
The materialization of the art object, 1966–72	58
Breath: Dale Chihuly and Emma Woffenden	65
Skilled
3
Circular thinking: David Pye and Michael Baxandall	70
Learning by doing	78
Thinking in situations: from the Bauhaus to Black Mountain	81
Charles Jencks and Kenneth Frampton: The ad hoc and the tectonic	87
Conclusion: skill and the human condition	100
Pastoral
4
Regions apart	106
Two versions of pastoral: Phil Leider and Art Espenet Carpenter	121
North, south, east, west: Carl Andre and Robert Smithson	127
Landscapes: Gord Peteran and Richard Slee	134
Amateur
5
“The world’s most fascinating hobby”: Robert Arneson	143
Feminism and the politics of amateurism	149
Abject craft: Mike Kelley and Tracy Emin	158
Conclusion	165
Notes	171
Index	203